NOTES OF THE DAY.

LOOK out for fires today.

MRS. MCKEE and Mrs. Russell Harrison are being made much of in Europe.

The American Bank Note Company is turning out $12,000,000 of paper money for Balmaceda.

THIS morning's dispatches are favorable to the Chilean insurgents. The question of recognition is likely soon to be forced upon the great powers.

The Librarian of the Whittier Reform School solicits the donation of books and illustrated papers suitable for the inmates of that institution.

AMERICAN residents in Stuttgart will celebrate the Fourth in grand style today, including music, fireworks, religious ceremonies and a dance.

The San José Mercury, an excellent exchange, has commenced its fortieth volume amid flattering auspices, having recently put in a perfecting press.

THE Boston Journal sums up the Senatorial situation in Ohio by remarking comprehensively that the one available man in Ohio to succeed John Sherman in the United States Senate is John Sherman.

EX-EMPEROR EUGENE will grant Prince-Victor a large annuity and leave him her fortune of $5,000,000, provided he will marry a member of some reigning family. The condition is apparently not a hard one.

Much interest is being taken in fish culture in Germany. The secretary of the German Fishery Association pays this tribute to the United States: "Of all European countries, Germany is most advanced in fish culture. The United States, however, is ahead, far ahead, of us all."

THERE have been a few deaths in California lately from sunstroke, but nothing like so many as have occurred in any one of the leading eastern cities. Thus, for instance, in Boston, during the week before last, there were no less than thirteen deaths from that cause.

Another frightful wholesale butchery on the rail is reported. We are accustomed to term these massacres "accidents," but how often are they not preventable? In this case, the disaster is said to be due to a misplaced switch. When will the Government step in and institute a more vigorous control over railroad travel?

THE London Financial Times has compiled from official returns a valuable table showing the amount of the gold and silver coinage in the several countries of the world, per head of population. It appears from this that as regards gold, Australia comes first and the United States stands fifth. As regards the circulation of silver, France leads and the United States stands fourth. Russia and Turkey have very little of either of the precious metals.

EVEN the Democratic South is waking up to sufficient consciousness to note on which side its bread is buttered, and protection is steadily gaining strength in that section. Those who are in favor of protecting American industries will meet in convention July 22, at Asheville, N. C., for the purpose of organizing a "Protective Tariff League" in connection with the central organization in New York. The responses to the call for this convention have been so numerous that its success is assured. This breathes somewhat of the spirit of a new South, and one which is falling into line with the progressive element of the North. It is a hopeful sign when we see the people of that section rising superior to old traditional usages and sentiments, and becoming independent political thinkers. This is one of the first breaks in the Democratic traces.

WHILE so much that is unreasonable and irritating has been said about this country by Italians, in connection with the New Orleans affair, it is refreshing to read the following passage, in a letter written by an Italian woman living near New Orleans to his nephew in Italy:

The Sicilians were the very scum of brigands. There is no doubt that they all conspired together to kill the Chief of Police of New Orleans, and if, as they boast, they belong to the Mafia, this fact alone proves to me that they are charlatans who should be sent to prison for life. It would have been more satisfied if the jury had condemned those people according to the evidence, but the jury was partly intimidated and partly biased, which does not do much credit to the Americans. But if you know the which juries are composed, you would understand the result. Vox populi, vox dei. The population of New Orleans could not all be frightened and bribed, and certainly it was not done that way. The bright go free and so the drama was ended.

The reason why I agree with the people is that I have been here ten years, and have always been treated better than you can imagine. In fact, the Americans find a atmosphere of confidence, honor, and with a good will, that person will have every reasonable assistance, and certainly more help than he could obtain in Italy.

land, and must lose it, as well as the land. Obviously the falsehoods told by Smith and Devlin are false. Mrs. Smith of her interest in the community, property, and so she has all the rights she ever had.

This law, which is said to have been passed in the interest of certain married women whose husbands have been giving away a great deal of property to charitable institutions, makes dealing in real estate a very hazardous undertaking for the purchaser and opens the way to all sorts of fraudulent practices.

California Legislatures come high, and people are beginning to ask whether we must have them, or whether, at least, we need have such an expensive luxury so often as every two years.

MONTE CARLO, the great gambling establishment at Monaco, will close its doors in April next, not because Prince Charles of Monaco has become virtuous, but because, having married an enormously wealthy widow, he will need not the royalty which the managers of the casino now pay him. The latter will, however, transfer their operations to Andorra, in the Basque country, a primitive republic whose chief magistrate receives a salary of $12 per annum.

The eye can extend into them, these laurel bushes in their gorgeous flowering appear. There are hills where the wood has been cut away which are a mass of laurel, their sides having the appearance of one bed of flowers.

The flower in its early stages, in the sunlight, is of a shade of pink of the most delicate, yet as fascinating as the glow of the sunrise on the snow. As it grows older it is nearly white, and in the woods, far from the sun, it is generally of this color. The abundance of this suberb flower cannot be overestimated. It literally covers miles upon miles of territory.

Grain on San Jacinto.

A careful estimate of the area in grain on the San Jacinto Valley, says San Bernardino Courier, by persons competent to judge, places the figures at 100,000 acres. A large proportion of this area is in wheat, but the bulk of the grain crop is barley. The crop is mostly a great one, but in some places the yield will be light. Much of the grain will yield from fifteen to twenty sacks to the acre, while a safe average will put the yield at twelve sacks, or perhaps more. As the barley and wheat markets are very good this season, it will be seen that with a total of 1,320,000 sacks will give the valley an income from grain alone amounting to over $1,500,000. This crop will require 6,600 carts to take it out of the valley. The crop is being harvested principally by large combined, harvester-threshers that will cut forty acres per hour. Some of the machines are drawn by mules, and others by tractors.

The cost of cutting and threshing the grain by this process is but $2 per acre, or a total cost of $220,000 for threshing the grain crop of the valley.

Mexican Orange Exports.

San Francisco Bulletin.

The statistics of the orange trade of the Mexican State of Sonora are suggestive. California orange-growers and American legislators think via Nogales to the United States has increased from 574,000 boxes in 1884-85 to 18,346 boxes in 1890-91. This looks small alongside of the California shipments for this season, amounting, according to the latest reports, to 1,023,700 boxes, but it is the rate of gain rather than the actual amount of Sonora shipments which concerns us. The capabilities of Sonora for orange-growing are great. Late American capital has been investing in the business there, which may account for the rapid increase of the last two years.

These facts and prospects show the importance of California in closely scrutinizing any negotiations and legislation having in view reciprocity with Mexico. We do not want to lose more than we could make by such an arrangement.

The statistics of the orange trade of the Mexican State of Sonora are suggestive. California orange-growers and American legislators think via Nogales to the United States has increased from 574,000 boxes in 1884-85 to 18,346 boxes in 1890-91. This looks small alongside of the California shipments for this season, amounting, according to the latest reports, to 1,023,700 boxes, but it is the rate of gain rather than the actual amount of Sonora shipments which concerns us. The capabilities of Sonora for orange-growing are great. Late American capital has been investing in the business there, which may account for

The Fires on Mt. Tamalpais Subdued.

Two Deaths Caused by the Intense Heat at Sacramento.

Gov. Ferry of Washington Orders the Striking Miners Disarmed.

Capt. Logan's Murderer Dies in Jail at San Francisco—Another Warship Sails for Bering Sea.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN RAFAEL, July 3.—[By the Associated Press.] The situation on Mt. Tamalpais has not changed materially this morning. Last night it was expected the fire would burn the hopper and trestles of the San Rafael water works, but a gang of twenty men were at that point, and by almost super-human work succeeded in saving that property. The men each fired the woods on the westerly side of Lagunitas Lake, and stopped the danger of San Rafael losing her water supply.

This morning the fire again started in the upper end of Rock Valley, but owing to the westerly wind it was blowing it rapidly northward, and when it reached the residence portion of the town reinforcements were sent out to battle with the flames at that place. In the direction of Bolinas the back-fire started to save the water company made rapid strides northward, and westward it was reported that the fire was raging on the stage road to Bolinas.

The fire has been extinguished at Tamalpais, but in the Mill Valley gulches it was still burning.

This afternoon the wind took a favorable turn and the Tamalpais fire is now in full way to be conquered in Rock Valley. The men sent out this morning succeeded in check-firing the woods so that it is now almost master of impossibility or the residence portion of Ross Valley to be harmed. Nothing but smoldering and smoking trunks of trees and half-burned chapparal adorn the once-beautiful Bill Williams Gulch.

The Bolinas stage passed over the mountain road to San Rafael this morning. The driver stated that the fire will not be as great as was expected. It is now, with the exception of several small brush fires, confined to what is known as the Potrero, a division thickly wooded, situated about one-half way between the summit and the ocean. All the remaining forces which had been employed at the summit have concentrated at this point, and should a strong wind not arise it is probable that by tomorrow the fire will have been all extinguished.

TO BE DISARMED.

Gov. Ferry's Vigorous Action Toward the Strikers.

OLYMPIA, July 3.—[By the Associated Press.] Gov. Ferry last night issued orders to Col. Haines to aid the civil authorities in disarming the bodies of armed men in Franklin, Gilman, or elsewhere in the county where riot or breach of peace is threatened and to call out the entire First Regiment of the National Guards if necessary. After the disarmament the military will be withdrawn, leaving the sheriff and his deputies to enforce the law and preserve the peace.

A Blaze at Portland.

PORTLAND (Or.), July 3.—Early this morning fire occurred in the three-story brick block and the two-story frame dwelling at the corner of Clay and Front streets. The frame building was occupied by the foundry of Honeyman & Co., and was totally consumed. The brick block contained Johnson & Lehman's flour and feed mill and E. E. Henry's mattress factory. It was only partially destroyed. The total loss was about $10,000. The principal losers are the Honeyman Foundry Company, $24,000, insurance $8,000; Johnson & Lehman, $30,000, insurance $2,000; E. E. Henry, $10,000, insurance $6,000; other small losses aggregate about $3000. The fire is thought to be of incendiary origin.

Raid Without Results.

VACAVILLE, July 3.—Yesterday B. M. Thomas of the United States revenue service and Deputy Marshals Malone and Nelson raided the Chinese quarters in search of opium, without success. Some weeks ago several cases of crude opium were received here and what disposition was made of them is unknown. The facilities for handling the drug were found out, and it is supposed that it was manufactured. It had been distributed throughout the valley long before the raid.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Charles E. Clark, the murderer of Capt. Duncan Logan of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, who sought to protect an old Frenchman whom Clark attempted to rob on the night of September 10, 1889, died in the County Jail this morning. It is stated that he died from consumption. Clark had been sentenced to be hanged but had appealed to the Supreme Court.

ARMY CHANGES.

THE THREE MILITARY DIVISIONS ABOLISHED.

Department Commanders Will Report to Gen. Schofield—Gen. Ringer to Command in This Department.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—[By the Associated Press.] Secretary Proctor today signed an order abolishing the three great military divisions of the United States. These were the Atlantic, Pacific and Missouri, commanded respectively by Gens. Howard, Ringer and Miles. By today's order the departments remain intact. The purpose is to make department commanders report directly to Maj. Gen. Schofield, commanding the army, and the Secretary of War, instead of as heretofore reporting to their division commander.

One of the features of the order is the assignment of Gen. Kautz to command of the Department of the Columbia, which is earnestly desired to command, as it is there his first military service was rendered, and there he wishes to retire next year. Maj. Gen. Howard is assigned to the command of the Department of the East, with headquarters at Governor's Island, New York harbor. Maj. Gen. Miles is assigned to the command of the Department of the Missouri, which will embrace the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Indian Territories, with headquarters at Chicago. Brig. Gen. Brooks is assigned to the command of the Department of the West, with headquarters at Omaha, Neb., and the State of Colorado is added to that department. Brig. Gen. Merritt is assigned to the command of the Department of Dakota, with headquarters at St. Paul. Brig. Gen. Stanley is assigned to the command of the Department of Texas with headquarters at San Antonio, Tex. Brig. Gen. Ringer is assigned to the command of the Department of California, with headquarters at Los Angeles.

Mullinax was then wounded by a son of Johnson, but not seriously. Peter Brindineau, a companion of Mullinax, then shot and instantly killed young Johnson and wounded Mrs. Johnson, who rushed to the assistance of her husband and son. The outlaws at the time of the tragedy were making away with a pair of fine bay horses belonging to Johnson. They escaped, but will be lynched if captured."

MARRIAGE A FAILURE.

Such is the Verdict in the Case of Parnell.

Bismarck Declines to Talk about Von Munster's Disclosures.

His Friends Pronounce the Count's Statements False.

The Standard Oil Company about to Down the Rothschilds in Germany—Other Foreign News.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, July 3.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] Parnell's marriage has not helped his cause, as he and his friends last week confidently hoped it would. The action of the Irish people shows that no quarter will be given him by the clergy. This is considered a final blow to Parnell's cause, and the reception which he met with at Carlow yesterday shows that the people have ceased to pay any attention to him. At Myshall it may be added Parnell addressed a meeting at which only thirty people were present. He had a successful meeting at Tee-magh today and afterward essayed to speak at Ballon, probably the most hostile district of Carlow. There he was received by the priests and bitterest anti-Parnellites with hisses and groans. A banner was displayed with the inscription, "Kitty and damnation! Put him out! Scat!" The police had hard work to avert a riot.

BISMARCK SILENT.

His Friends Deny the Story Told by Count von Munster.

FRIEDRICHSHUHE, July 3.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] An Associated Press correspondent today called upon Prince Bismarck and directed the latter's attention to the allegations made recently in the London Times by Blowitz concerning statements attributed to Count von Munster, to the effect that the latter declared that he would Emperor William a year before he died, name Von Cap as Chancellor should he (the Emperor) be compelled to discard the Prince, who was becoming overbearingly headstrong. Count von Munster is said to have also recalled another occasion in which the old Emperor complained of the Chancellor's advancing his son, Count Herbert Bismarck, as the greatest act of nepotism in politics ever recorded, but which, the Emperor said, must be borne because the services of Bismarck were still needed.

Prince Bismarck said he was not willing to discuss Count von Munster's alleged utterances on the events which followed up to his (the Chancellor's) retirement.

The Prince, his personal physician, Dr. Chrysanthus, on the other hand said the Times story was completely contradicted by the German press, and it was so obviously untrue that a formal denial of the so-called facts it contained was not necessary.

THE GENTLE ART OF HUSBANDRY.

But I am way ahead of my story. My purpose in writing this is to encourage gentlemen living in the suburbs to cultivate that gentle art of husbandry and make their own gardens. The first season nearly everything failed, though I did get some lettuce, tomatoes, potatoes and cucumbers. Indeed, I got all that we needed of these during the succeeding fall and winter. I literally went to school to every gardener and farmer I came in contact with. From the gardeners I got as a rule very intelligent advice, and this I put into my book, in the shape of marginal notes.

From the farmers I got little information worth the having. They seemed to think that for the likes of me to expect that garden truck would grow was little less than presumptuous. Well, with this information, added to my experience and that set down in the books, I made a regular plan for my second garden, and a very attractive map it seemed when it was finished.

I did not attempt to economize space, because I had more than I needed, and I therefore laid off beds with paths between each and broad paths at either end. These beds were thirty feet long and four feet wide, the paths between being a foot and a half wide, and those at the ends three feet wide.

BETTER RESULTS.

I so apportioned my beds that I should have all the vegetables I wished in season. I tried pease, tomatoes, lettuce, spinach, radishes, squashes, sweet corn, peppers, bush beans, lima beans, cucumbers, parley, okra, eggplant, cauliflower, cabbage, carrots, celery, onions, garlic, salsify, potatoes, musk and water melons.

I succeeded admirably with all of these ventures except with the melons. Either the ground is not favorable for the growth of these or the season was bad, or what is quite likely, I have not learned the knack of cultivating them.

The cost was nothing at all. I don't count the labor I put on the garden as an outlay at all. It was an income rather. It took the place of a saddle horse, a bicycle or a gymnasium, for during all the time I was working in the garden I put in as many hours at my desk as it was wholesome for one to do, and this outdoor work was exercise which was needed.

I paid money for manure and other fertilizers, it is true, and also for seed, but in balancing my books I found that the ten bushels of onions and the twenty bushels of potatoes I sold more than paid for my outlay in money. The fact is that I was some six or seven dollars ahead, besides the summer supplies and winter stores.

Now, what I have done any man can do who can put in an hour and a half every day with spade and hoe and rake. The difficulty with beginners at gardening is that they are too easily disengaged, and give up because they do not achieve at the first attempt results like those accomplished by the skillful professional gardener.—New York Telegram.

THE VOICE OF AFFECTION.

One of S. C. Goodrich's stories is as follows:

"Madam," said the Connecticut minister to the widow, "it's a painful subject—but you have recently lost with a severe loss." "Yes, doctor," applying her apron to her eyes, "and I try to bear it with submission, but, oh, doctor, I sometimes feel in my heart—Goosey, goosey gander, where shall I wander?"

ATTEMPT OF A CITY MAN TO GROW HIS OWN VEGETABLES.

Success After a Season of Apparently Hopeless Failure—The Trouble with Books That Treat of Farming and Gardening—How He Learned.

Unreservedly I want to give my experience with a kitchen garden. I had never tried anything of the kind before and a more absolutely ignorant person to horticulture and gardening generally never placed a spade in the earth or turned up a grub worm. I had no one to lean upon for instruction and therefore I attempted to make a vegetable garden of about half an acre, with no other assistance than that furnished in the books on the subject.

These books utterly fail to take into account the fact that city bred people know nothing whatever about tilling the earth, sowing seed, and stimulating the growth of plants. I was that kind of a person

THE OPERA.

A Successful Performance Thursday Evening.

A LARGE AUDIENCE PRESENT

Fourth of July Doings—A Quiet Day In Town—Grizzlies After Honey-Brew.

There was some misgiving on the part of the public as to the capability of the Pasadena Conservatory of Music to handle the Bohemian Girl, prior to the presentation of this opera on Thursday evening. Hitherto the work this talented organization has been confined to the lighter class of opera, and with signal success. It was, therefore, in the nature of an experiment that something decidedly more ambitious was attempted, and much public interest was manifested in the result.

The audience was of fair size and appreciative, generous in its recognition of the good work done by soloists and chorus, and inclined to considerately pass over the rough places that here and there cropped out. The performance, taken as a whole, may safely be said to have exceeded the expectations of the majority of those present, but it is an open question whether the company does not appear to better advantage in less pretentious productions, where the comic element prevails and the requirements call for less in matter of voice and gesture.

The audience of the Order of the Eastern Star Thursday evening, held in the new Masonic headquarters, was of particular interest. A sumptuous repast furnished a feature of the entertainment.

It is to be hoped the services of the fire department will not be required to day. More fires happen on the Fourth than on any other one day in the year. Proper precaution is all that is needed to prevent accidents.

Rev. A. A. Dinsmore will preach at the Calvary Presbyterian Church on Columbia street at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Sunday-school at 3 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Dinsmore has been engaged as regular pastor of this church.

A few of the merchants have distinguished themselves by decorating their places of business with flags and bunting, but the decorations are much less numerous than usual, due largely to the fact of there being no local celebration.

Contractor Thomas Banbury and his party returned yesterday afternoon from Mt. Wilson, to enjoy the Fourth in a fitting manner. Mr. Banbury reported the trail completed to Martin and Lynch's camp, and beyond, to within about one thousand feet of the summit.

It is a little nutty now for closed lanes and windows, but it would be well for citizens to keep a sharp lookout for thieves. A few nights ago a house on North Euclid avenue was visited, but the invaders were scared off by one of the family before they had captured any booty.

J. B. Wagner and Miss Grace M. Harris were married yesterday afternoon at the Catholic Church. They were afterward driven to Los Angeles, where they boarded a train for one of the seaside resorts. The groom is one of the popular attachés of the Union meat market, and the bride, who is a sister of Mrs. S. Bennett, is a well-known and highly esteemed young lady.

Today's Tennis Tournament.

The members of the tennis club will enjoy plenty of recreation and amusement at the club court today. Play will begin at 9 o'clock. The contests will include ladies' and gentlemen's singles and doubles, and mixed doubles.

The club medals will be contested for, but several players from neighboring clubs will be present and participate in outside contests. Lunch will be served at 1 o'clock. A large attendance is anticipated.

Arnold Kutter as "Thaddeus" had a difficult role to fill. His singing, for the most part, was satisfactory, and in some of his work, noticeably in the duet with Mrs. Clapp, he proved himself the possessor of a rich voice of wide compass. His dramatic methods were somewhat at fault at times, but he has been an apt pupil and much improved in the execution of the part.

The music that fails to fit the part of "Florestine" was considerably cut to fit Mr. Frost's baritone voice. Mr. Frost was called upon at short notice to assume the part, and, all things considered, he did it well.

A. C. Case made a handsome "Captain of the Guards," and a detachment from Co. B proved themselves model soldiers. Miss Jessie Rippey made a pretty "Baby Arline," and was as cute as could be, while Miss Ethel Stewart of Los Angeles captured the admiration of the audience in a very gracefully-executed dance. The cast was published in full in yesterday's issue.

Mr. Paulsen of Los Angeles very ably directed the music. There were two pianos, presided over by Prof. Wiles of Los Angeles and Miss Manlove. The latter has been uniting in her work as accompanist and her services have been of great value to the company.

The opera was repeated last night.

Edmund Bear.

A grizzly bear and her cub made a second visit Thursday night to the apathy of Henry Elms, at the foot of the mountains near the head of Mareno avenue, and totally destroyed five hives of bees. The hives were covered with sections, and were nearly filled with honey, making a royal feast for bear and her baby. This makes ten hives destroyed during the past six weeks, totally clearing out Mr. Elms' stock.

SANTA MONICA.

SANTA MONICA, July 3.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The crowd which came down this morning—filling four coaches—had a pleasant day at the seaside. The mercury at 2 o'clock this afternoon stands at 74°.

The petition now in circulation, asking the trustees to pass an ordinance calling an election to vote bonds for building a wharf and constructing a sewer, is being generally signed. Up to last night over one hundred signatures had been obtained. The petition will come up before the board of trustees for their decision at the regular meeting next Monday evening. Unless at least one of the trustees should "back down," the petition will be denied, as before.

A Spaniard, who answers to the high-sounding title of Amarantha del Castillo, has presented Dr. Place a bunch of cigarettes made from tobacco raised in the cañon near town. Your correspondent took a whiff at one of them, and found it as good as cigarettes generally. If we fail in our wharf project why not start a cigarette factory?

Prof. Paul Carré, the German Conservatory of Music, Los Angeles, some time ago organized a portion of our local talent into a choral society, and they are now rehearsing for a concert, which will be given in the course of a couple of weeks. The society is composed entirely of Santa Monica talent, and the Professor is pleased to say that he will "astonish the natives" at their proficiency, when they shall have heard them sing.

A portion of the committee empowered to construct a half-mile race course at Santa Monica as soon as the necessary funds are secured, looked over the ground this morning and decided that a spot other than the one selected would be better for the purpose. The preferred locality is the one formed by Eleventh street and Nevada avenue.

The ground is more level, it is immediately on the line of the street railway, and is near a water tap, which makes it convenient for sprinkling the track. Up to last night $130.50 had been subscribed.

Messrs. Charley Rasey and A. K. Macumber of Pasadena ran down this morning from the city in an hour and a half on their bicycles. They say that sixteen wheelmen will start from the city in the morning on a race for Santa Monica. The finish will be at the corner of Third street and Utah avenue, about 10 o'clock, a little after.

Messrs. Cowley &amp; Baker are making a fine display of flags and bunting all over their elegant hotel. The Santa Monica band generally will make a liberal exhibit of their patriotic remembrance.

Miss Ottie Scott, one of our charming seaside belles, celebrated the anniversary of her birthday yesterday by entertaining a number of her friends at a picnic held in Rustic Cañon.

H. M. Stoll of Los Angeles is building a cottage on South Beach.

C. E. Andrews and family have made themselves comfortable in the pretty little cottage which John Dixon has just completed at the corner of Arizona avenue and Fifth street.

As a matter of course Forrest's movement had not been concealed from the Union forces. Learning of his entry into Tennessee, where he crossed the town of Jackson, where the Mobile and Ohio railway from Columbus, Ky., united with the Mississippi Central, which ran to Jackson, Miss., and along which Grant was moving with the land column threatening Vicksburg, Jackson, Tenn., was the headquarters of a military district commanded by Gen. J. C. Sullivan, and the outlying points east, north and south were garrisoned by small bodies of infantry with cavalry outposts. Lexington, just east of Jackson, was a cavalry post. The news of Forrest's crossing of the Tennessee reached the Union camp on the 15th, and immediately the telegraph was set to work all along the line between Columbus, Ky., and Grant's headquarters at Oxford, Miss., to order troops to the threatened points. Col. Robert G. Ingalls, Sullivan's chief of cavalry, immediately started to meet Forrest with 200 of his own regiment, the Eleventh Illinois, about 300 of the Second West Tennessee, and 300 of the Fifth Ohio. Forrest was encountered outside of Lexington, and the first dash of the raiders scattered the Second West Tennessee, and in a short time Ingalls and over a hundred men were made prisoners.

Mrs. A. W. Parker left today on a visit to her old home at Montreal. The Arcadia will close tomorrow's celebration with a grand ball.

F. R. Barnham of New Haven is registered at the St. James.

THE PALMS, July 3.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Much interest is felt by our people regarding the outcome of the boulevard project.

The ladies of the First Baptist Church closed their lecture course last Monday evening with a stereopticon entertainment on the Yellowstone Park, given by Rev. L. P. Mr. Steven's mammoth threshing machine is still attracting the attention of not only the surrounding farmers, but city people as well; it is said to have threshed 3000 sacks of barley per day this week.

Miss Bertha Ross is spending a few days at Clinton for the past week.

Sort Peaches for Drying.

C. J. Berry in the Tulara Times, speaking of farmers drying their own peaches, says: "It is positively necessary to rejuice fruit—not soft, mushy fruit, but just ripe—in order to make a good article of 'dried.' So many of our peaches are of such mammoth sizes that it is necessary to grade them. If a peach weighing sixteen or eighteen ounces is pitted and laid alongside of peaches that weight ten or twelve ounces, the smaller fruit will be ready for the sweat box some time before the larger, but, not being graded, must remain exposed to the sun until the larger is ready; thus drying up in fact, completely spoiling the smaller fruit for market unless at a nominal price—while by grading them at the start this important matter can be easily controlled. In regard to sulphur, I am in favor of it to bleach our fruit, but as some fruit-growers do not advocate this policy, claiming it is detrimental to the flavor of the fruit, one can take his choice and leave it alone if he deems best. Sulphur certainly improves the appearance of dried fruit and makes it sell for a better price."

The system of train ticket agents on the Southern Pacific Company's line was a failure, and it did not require much time to demonstrate the fact, for though the new rule went into effect by degrees, beginning only about three months ago, it is to be abandoned at once. The company has decided to take off the agents and heavier pay higher salaries to passenger conductors and require them to give indemnity bonds for the faithful and honest performance of their duties. This has been the result on a number of eastern roads, the experience of which justified the prophecy made in these columns, that the Southern Pacific's experiment would prove to be unprofitable and impulsive. The train-agent system met with much opposition from the conductors, who consider their honesty impugned by the new departure, and their friends and the traveling people were outraged in seeing it. As a result some of the conductors refused to do what they were requested—and the railroad trainmen have ever since been more or less packy. If the increase of the conductors' wages is sufficient to pay the premium of the required indemnity bond, the passenger conductors will probably be quite willing to go through the form of making themselves not only solid with the company but solid for the future.
